D. WASTE COLLECTION AND RECYCLING

Collaborate with us! Help us to separate and recycle your rubbish!

In Oporto Maison Batalha we contribute to the fulfilment of the 3 R's Policy (Reduce, Reuse and Recycle). This is an incentive, in the sense of influencing our clients, to pollute less the environment through a conscious consumption and through a sustainable management of the products and materials used in our daily life. With these three main steps, we will have a more preserved environment, because the generation of waste by society will be lower. Of course, this is not the only measure to preserve nature, but it is certainly an important step to ensure a better world for future generations.

Fight against waste

Oporto Maison Batalha, aware of the consequences of an inordinate use of resources, seeks to make an efficient management of them, in favour of the sustainable development.

Waste disposal and recycling

At the Oporto Maison Batalha we proceed to the separation of the following waste:

- Paper / Plastic / Glass - separation and deposit in the “Eco Point”.
- Batteries.

Conscious Waste Separation

At your arrival you will find 3 coloured bags (blue, yellow, and green) in the flat, an invitation to separate waste for correct disposal.

Sustainability and Social Responsibility

In Oporto Maison Batalha we carry out actions together with the community such as donation of furniture and bed and bath linen, support to local artists, internships for professional training of students in the labour market.

Resource Management Efficiency

Aware of the importance of efficiency in resource management, we have been implementing a set of practices:

- Lighting with natural light - Without compromising the building's thermal behaviour requirements, we have tried to ensure that natural lighting is predominant in all the building' spaces.
- Environmentally friendly lighting - The interior lighting was entirely designed with led lamps and timer as a measure to promote energy efficiency.

Additionally, a set of good practices are promoted daily and disseminated throughout the organisation with the same objective:

- Internal campaign to raise awareness of separation and recycling.
- Collection of used batteries.
- Guidelines for printing documents.
- Internal campaign for the adoption of environmentally friendly practices.

Located in the historic centre of Porto, Praça da Ribeira, next to the pier with the same name, is one of the oldest squares in the city, already mentioned in royal charters in 1389, although with a different layout from today. It was in this area of Ribeira and in its commercial connection with the River Douro that the city began its development and turned towards the river. At the “Cais”, it is possible to see a door called the Postigo do Carvão (Coal Wicket), belonging to the Fernandina Wall, built in the 14th century, the only example that has survived to the present day. The narrow and winding streets, overlooking Gaia, the shady arcades, typical houses with colourful façades from other times, its urban-rural architecture, surrounded by cafés and shops make this one of the main tourist areas of the city

The Clérigos Tower is the Porto's ex-libris. It opened its doors in 1763, becoming the tallest belfry in Portugal, with more than 75 meters. In 1753, the Italian architect Nicolau Nasoni was invited to design and build this magnificent heritage, considered a National Monument since 1910. The famous church was built in the 18th century, between 1732 and 1749, and this was the most emblematic work of the architect Nicolau Nasoni. It is one of the most beautiful baroque temples, and a reference in the history of Porto.

1- Alto Douro Vinhateiro – Cultural Heritage	 Source: patrimoniocultural.gov.pt
The Alto Douro Wine Region is a particularly representative area of the landscape that characterises the vast Demarcated Douro Region, the oldest regulated wine region in the world. The cultural landscape of the Alto Douro combines the monumental nature of the Douro River valley, made up of steep slopes and poor, rugged soils, with the ancestral and continuous action of Man, adapting the space to the agricultural needs of the Mediterranean type that the region supports. This relationship between human activity and nature has created an ecosystem of unique value, where the characteristics of the land are put to exemplary use by shaping the landscape in terraces, preserving it from erosion and allowing vines to be grown. The region produces the famous Port wine, representing the main vector of dynamization of the local technology, culture, traditions and economy.

Port Wine	Port Wine Cellars The Port Wine Cellars are a Portuguese ex-libris and document an unusual history of temperance and boldness. Open for visits all year round, to visit them is to deepen your knowledge about Port Wine, the Douro region and the cities of Porto and V.N. de Gaia.

- Sun and Sea (Porto and surroundings)

Name	Features
Praia do Homem do Leme	Going to Foz is a must for anyone visiting Porto. And so is extending your towel at Praia do Homem do Leme. Like all the beaches in the area, it has a blue flag, and the rocks are part of the scenery. For the little ones, there's a children's playground, right in front of the beach; for the grown-ups, there are two bars with everything you could want in the summer: lupins, beers, and mojitos.
Praia da Madalena	With a long stretch of sand that invites you to relax or stroll along the seafront, Madalena beach is one of the most popular in Gaia. If you always carry a pair of trainers in your car bag, put them on and walk along the wooden walkway.
Praia da Memória	It's one of the best in the area to take the kids. But only in the morning. In the afternoon it's quiet, with no running around or water pistols. It has lifeguard surveillance, tents for rent, a bar right on the sand and a historical side that is also important to underline: the Obelisk of Memory was built to remember the Disembarkation of Mindelo, in 1832. The first stone was laid on December 1 st , 1840, but the obelisk was only completed 24 years later.
